AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in eash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two ears the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the

CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become numbers of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospects of future usefulness. The Directors and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. HUMOR AND MUSIC.-When humor joins rhythm and music, and appears in song, its influence is irresistible; its charities are countless; it stirs the feelings to love, peace, friendship, as scarce any moral agent can .-The songs of Berranger are hymns of love and tenderness; I have seen great whiskered Frenchmen warbling the "Bonne Ville" "Soldatus au pas, au pas," with tears rolling down their moustaches. At a Burns festival, I have seen Scotchmen singing Burns, while the drops twinkled on their furrowed cheeks; while each rough hand was flungout to grasp its neighbor's; while early scenes and sacred recollections, and dear and delightful memories of the past came rushing back at the sound of the familiar words and music, and the softened heart was full of love, and friendship, and home. Humor! if tears are the alms of gentle spirits, and may be counted, as sure they may, among the sweetest of life's charities-of that kindly sensibility, and sweet, sudden emotion, which exhibits itself at the eyes, I know no such provocative as humor. It is an irresistible sympathizer; it surprises you into compassion; you are laughing and disarmed, and suddenly forced into tears. I once heard 'a humorous balladist, a minstrel with wool on his head. and an ultra Ethiopian complexion, who performed a negro ballad, that I confess moistened these spectacles in the most unexpectted manner. They have gazed at a dozen of N. Y. Ledger, Leslie's Illustrated, N. Y. Illus- tragedy queens, dying on the stage, and expiring in appropriate blank verse, and I never wanted to wipe them. They have looked up, with deep respect be it said, at many scores of clergymen in pulpits, and without being dimmed: and behold, a vagabond with a corked face and a banjo, sings a little song, strikes a wild note which sets the whole heart thrilling with pity. Humor! humor is the Godey's Lady's Book for July, is a rich number, mistress of tears; she knows the way to the fons lachrymarum, strikes in dry and rugged places with her enchanting wand, and bids the fountain gush and sparkle. She has refreshed myraids more from her natural springs than ever tragedy has watered from her pompous old urn .- Thackeray. A story is going the rounds that at one of the recent political conventions a prayer was opened by one of the officiating clergyman in the following terms: "Oh, God !-Thou who art pleased to consider thyself the fountain of all wisdom, look down." &c. It was a slip of the tongue, of which the speaker most probably was totally unconscious. A similar incident occurred some years ago at a camp-meeting in one of the Northern States. A preacher, in the midst of a long and fervent praver, and thinking to quote the words of Scripture, misapplied them by saying, "Oh Lord! we know that thou art wise in thine own conceit." We know this is true, for we heard it. The preacher had not the slightest idea of the blunder he had made, and went on to the close of a long prayer .- New Orleans Picayune. SABBATH SCHOOL EXCURSION.
